WOMAN SERVES MONTH IN JAIL AT HOME

Judge Faris Also Says Fine for Making Liquor Is Paid With-

Judge Faris of the United States District Court today discovered a method by which a defendant may be credited with spending a month n jail without serving a day, and be fined without paying a cent.

The case was that of Mrs. Jose phine Hancock, 2419 North Broad-way, mother of three children. With her husband, John R. Hancock, sha pleaded guilty on March 5, 1920, to setting up and operating a still in violation of the war-time prohibition law. They said they were making raisin whisky for their own use Their arrest occurred on Oct. 27,

Faris said that he had no choice under the statute save to impose both jail sentences and fines, but that, on account of the children, he would not imprison them both at the same time. Hancock was sentenced to month in jail, which he served, and fined $100, which he paid

Mrs. Hancock appeared this morning to receive sentence. District Atorney Carroll said that he believed the husband, who had been punished, was the chief offender, and recalled that the grand jury had recmmended leniency for the woman am very sorry," said Judge Faris to Mrs. Hancock, "but the law bliges me to send you to jail." He "It is with regret," he coninued, "that I sentence you to one month in the city jail.

rides for an obligatory fine. "I fine her $100 on execution." said Judge Faris, this being equiva-lent to a stay of the assessment.

Because Jacob Bierenbaum, clerk at the Carr Street Pharmacy, is a hunchback, Judge Faris declined to send him to the penitentiary, but fined him $500 and costs. He charged with selling morphine without a prescription to a negress, about a month ago.

Adolph Welker, a bartender, who sold a drink of whisky to a prohibition agent on July 2, last, was fined

Up at Cornell John Hoyle has two varsity crews picked, and while one of them is largely made up of men from what is known as the "Knight crew" or the light varsity crew of last year, Hoyle is still remembering what hapened in 1920. So we may be certain that before the time comes for real racing he will have a heavy varsity crew. In fact, his last year's freshman crew is now rowing together and weighs 10 pounds to the man more than it tid last year.

Wall Street News and Comment -SPECIAL DAILY-

By a Special Correspodent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 7.—There were two opposing considerations in this morning's stock market.

One was the announcement, which came after business hours yesterday that the Federal Reserve Bank in the Chicago district had followed the Chicago district had followed the example of the banks in Boston, New York and Atlanta, and had reduced its discount rate on commercial loans. The other was the sharp price cut made public by the Chevrolet Motor made public by the Chevrolet Motor Co. Inasmuch as the first piece of news had been expected, it did not cut as much figure as the second news item, which was quite unexpected. Ever since the turn came in the motor industry, a little over a month ago, opinion has been divided as to whether it was the beginning of an important new forward movement or simply a recovery which would flare up for a while and then die down.

turn would continue, and it was natural that the announcement of the price reduction by the Chevrolet should have given very much of a jar to this speculative position.

All the motor shares broke sharply right at the start, and the selling continued throughout the first hour, after which there was a moderate rally. Stocks of tire companies which have been influenced by the campaign in the motors were not as much affected. In fact, they held up remarkably well. The weakness in the motor group unsettled the general list throughout the early part of the session, but in the final dealings fresh buying appearing in some of the railway shares, the oils and one or two specialties brought about a firmer tone.

Such test as the day's operations imposed was altogether in favor of the conclusion that the general market position, outside of one or two groups, has not been weakened by the rise of the last few days.

Query for Sunday must be mailed a week beforehand.

L. M. H.—"Shoulder Arms" is a enough flowers for the purpose have been gathered, letting them stand in the far for 10 days after the last are put in, stirring the stand in the jar for 10 days after the last are put in, stirring the whole every morning. Have ready 4 ounce mace and ½ ounce of all-low discounts on advertising except to advertising agencies recognized by the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

SWEET SIXTEEN.—The odorous principles of certain flowers may be obtained by enfleurage, the "extract" being an alcoholic solution of such principles. The flowers are placed in contact with prepared grease which absorbs the odorous matter, and the grease is in turn macerated with alcohol which dissolves out the odor. Making the extracts directly from the pomade (as the grease is called) requires some experience, in order to be successful, while judging the quality of the materials is also important. Rose jar, or pot-pourri may be made as follows: Gather the flowers early in the morning, and toss them lightly on a table in a cool, airy place, to lie till the dew has evaporated, then put them in a large glass jar sprinkling salt over ½ inch layers of the flowers. This may be added to from morning to morning until LEGAL INFORMATION.

FOR COLORED PEOPLE

WELLS

We do not know whether there is any oil in St. Louis or not, but here are the facts, and we think enough of the prospects that we are going to spend some money to employ expert geologists and make a thorough investi-

Frederick W. Otto from whom we purchased part of our Homesites property, makes the following state-ments to us. These statements were made, not before we had purchased the property, but several months afterward:

"There is an old coal shaft on your new Kenwood-Homesites property, from which, in times past, coal was mined in considerable quantities for local use. I believe there is oil under all of this property out here, and this is what makes me believe it." "I noticed several years ago that cattle would not drink out of a spring-fed creek here, below a certain point, while above there they drank freely. Investigation disclosed a seepage of oil into the stream at the point bedrink, this seepage causing a slight scum on top of the water."

An old Pennsylvania oil man says that this is exactly the same condition which resulted in the discovery of oil in Pennsylvania oil fields. It was a matter of general knowledge for many years that there was coal under the ground, and that cattle would not drink water from certain streams because of an oil film that covered them. This oil seepage finally led to the drilling of oil wells.

We do not recommend to any friend or customer that he buy any property in this district on the prospect of oil, but we do recommend that you buy some land in this district with the positive knowledge that the growth of new St. Louis—the MIRACLE CITY the establishment of a great many factories in the new industrial district in this section—is going to make you a big profit on your investment.

Geologists will immediately begin an investigation of this property for indications of oil, and if they so recommend, we will start drilling immedi ately. In the meantime, prices will not be advanced, but only 100 lots will be sold at present prices, and not more than four to each customer. You can buy one of these lots for as little as $50 cash and $10 a month.

INSTITUTIONAL TAX REDUCTION OPPOSED

Museum and Library Boards Say They Will Appeal From Cut Proposed by Deputy Comp-

The question of whether the city administration has control over the apportionment of funds to the Public Library, the Art Museum and the 200, or whether this is a matter that can only be settled by a vote of the people, has been raised by the announcement of Deputy Comptroller Gunn that the tax rate for those institutions would be reduced. A meeting between representatives of the respective boards and City Counselor Hamilton will be held next Wednesday to discuss the situation.

Members of the Museum and Library boards say that they will go to the courts, if necessary, to resist any attempt either to reduce the rate of their revenue, or to place it under the control of city officials.

Gunn says that he is acting under a law passed by the last Legislature. It provided that in case the tax assessment should be raised, the total amount levied for municipal purposes should not exceed the preceding year's levy by more than 10 per As is known, the assessment was raised, so that, in order to keep crease, it will be necessary to reduce

But the rate of taxes collected for titled to. the benefit of the Library, the Museum and the zoo was fixed by the stores at special elections, and is: $158,172.03. Gunn would allow it voters at special elections, and is: $173,989.23 this year. The unchanged rate would yield $190,000. The figures for the Art Museum are 200, 2 cents on the $100 valuation the same as those for the Zoo, the for each. The directors and trustees of these institutions claim that nothing can change these rates ex-cept another special election. # The Spectacular Wheel

THE most spectacular wheels in the world are those carrying millions of automobiles, trucks, and tractors over the roads of the United States. Petroleum-refined petroleum-furnishes the power which drives them, and the lubricants which keep them running.

Throughout ten important Middle Western States, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) serves the drivers of these machines. Not only does it provide them with Red Crown, the high-grade gasoline, and with Polarine, the perfect motor oil, but it furnishes the road oil and asphalt which surfaces hundreds of miles of the best roads in the country as well.

Roads made with Stanolind Paving Asphalt make riding easy and smooth, and by eliminating the ruts and dust it also keeps down the upkeep cost of car, and clothing, and enables the motorist to get the utmost of pleasure from his machine.

Such roads eliminate the constant attention and expense which dirt roads exact, thus saving time, labor and money for property owners along the way.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) manufactures everything made from petroleum. It provides unsurpassed facilities for the use of the highly-trained specialists who oversee every step in the intricate processes of manufacture.

The resulting products are sent to market with the Company's unqualified guarantee that every gallon is made as well as it can be made.

HE other day, as I sat like Homer smiting my lyre, the door opened and seven or eight Blackfoot Indians came in. They were in full plumage, and from dull drabs and browns the environment out of which my soul's song struggles for air and sunshine assumed the glory of the rainbow.

You can imagine that at this invasion I pulled the stops and shut off the power, bidding song for the moment browse where it would.

Anyway, that was what happened. I rose respectfully, and an Indian who ap-peared to speak for the party stepped forward. "I am Chief Eagle Calf," he said. "We are from the Glacier National Park, and

AMERICA NO MELTING POT?

THE Senate has voted to curb immigration. Senator Williams of Mississippi, defending the act, is reported to have said, "The American melting pot is all tomfoolery."

This pessimistic utterance deserves attentionand rebuke. Since July 4, 1776, America, to Americans, has symbolized and signified, what someone happily defined, "a melting pot of nations." If immigration must be curtailed (for the present) no one seriously objects. The Senate may have acted wisely. Perhaps Senator with his one lonesome vote against this "shiver of hysteria" as he termed it, may see the situation far more truly. Whichever is the more correct, there is no warrant for the low, ignoble expression that "the American melting pot is all tomfoolery." We challenge and denounce the Senator's false words. It trails the flag into the dust. If the smelting process in America has not fully welded all the people into one, the fault is more the lack of fire under the pot.

No heat of the heart, no blazing enthusiasm that would kindle a reciprocal devotion for Ameriscan ideals has been shown—but cold indifference to the welfare of the immigrant has predomi-nated!. * *

Let him look about him! In every nook and corner of this great land men, women and children of all denominations and all previous nationalities are living in tranquility, in united understanding of this country's welfare. In every community in the United States these varied elements labor in co-operation, social, educational and civic. Mil-lions of former Europeans of every land and their escendants in America today are more American han the Senator from Mississippi, who lacks the

It would be a world calamity if about this account, and what you want us to America should lose that precious appellation and that inestimable privilege.

If there is a slight residue of the unmeltable it is to be remembered that even purest gold has dross. The dross of undesirables in America is for the larger part domestic, not imported. • •

An abiding confidence that this land is a melting pot should be an indispensable requisite of American patriotism. Every citizen should cherish this conception in his creed. Even Senators of the United States should not be above or exempt from this exalting and inspiring faith that America is indeed the melting pot of hope and of humanity.

dustrial life of all nations is standing still until this matter is decided. Conditions are not so acute in the United States as in other countries, but they are far from satisfactory, and there will be no positive change until the administration clearly outlines and actively pursues a foreign policy. There is no excuse for further delay. The close relation between the German indemnity and a tariff policy is apparent, since Germany must pay an indemnity, if she does pay one, in manufactured goods. It will be necessary to have this and other questions resulting from the war settled before Congress can act intelligently on the tariff or anyting else. Even taxation, important as that is, is a matter that can be decided only after a peace policy has been determined. The amount we shall pay ih taxes is clearly connected with such ques tions as disarmament, the American-owed debts of European Powers, reparations, and a dozen other details. Moreover, the time has passed when Washington can discuss this issue in generali

Peppers Need Good Soil.

WEET peppers, sometimes called Chinese peppers and Mammoth peppers, are becoming more and more popular as a crop for planting in the home garden. Only a few plants are necessary to supply the family of average size with all the peppers they will want, but it takes good land and extra care to produce peppers of high quality, say garden specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Pepper plants are easily injured by cold and the plants should be started in the

Then loosen the surface thoroughly at the time the plants are set. Frequent cultivation s necessary, and an occasional application of weak liquid manure to the soil around the plants will keep them growing vigorously. Large tender peppers can only be produced on thrifty plants, and in order to keep the plants producing all the pepper should be kept picked off and none allowed to ripen

Ruby King, Chinese Giant and Large Bell or Bull Nose are among the leading varieties of the large sweet peppers. Pimiento peppers are mild in flavor and are largely grown in the Southern States for making the pimiento pickled peppers. The pimiento peppers can be used in the same way as the regular sweet peppers or they may be left on the plants until red ripe then used for canning.

UNCOMMON SENSE By JOHN BLAKE

Get Rid of Time Wasters.

THE gentleman who comes into your office, when he knows you are busy, and sits down for a friendly little chat, must be got rid of. If he is intelligent, you can get rid of him without hurting his feelings. If he is stupid, it will be necessary to hurt his feelings. But get rid of him you must, whether his feelings are hurt or not Efficiency experts could figure, no doubt, that many thousands of working hours go to waste every year because busy people are too good natured to invite idlers to get out of their offices. Most of the precautions taken by the "hard to get to" business men are not due to their haughtiness, but to their knowledge of the and outer guards, to keep pests from bothering him, he might soon cease to be a small business man and become a big one. In most offices the clerical force, and the general employes are not to be seen during business hours. It requires a very intrusive person to get by the boys at the gate. But the boss or the manager has always some friend he hates which is time. It may be that you are one of those who will lean back in your chair and listen to business hour visitors who bring no business to talk about, rather than ask them to call out of business hours. If you are, break yourself of the habit. Don't depend on signs saying, "This Is My Busy Day," or "Five Minutes Is Long Enough for One Conversation." They never take

TRUTH THAN POETRY By James J. Montague.

IT'S A HARD LIFE.

You could not to the hen impute A wish to wound or hurt you; She's diligent in the pursuit Of every homely virtue.

With honest industry she earns
Her breakfast, lunch and dinner,
And for these blessings she returns
The best that there is in her.

Yet when the hen at last is floored By years of stern endeavor, . Does she receive the just reward Of sterling virtue—never!
With cold and calculating stare
The butcher contemplates her,
And she is hurried off to where A casserole awaits her!

But pat the clam upon his shell, His grateful glance requites you, He never gets a peevish spell
Or barks, or growls or bites you. Within a narrow compass curled

He has small chance for action,
But he would not, for all the world

Untouched by malice, greed or hate From rectitude unswerving,
The very noblest gifts of fate
Are not past his deserving.
Though dull and drear has been the past

He is not hard or bitter, And yet the patient clam at last Will finish in a fritter:

Not Exactly Extravagant.

An economical housewife told her husband the other morning that she'd have to ask him for $2.50 a week on account of the high cost

"I'll try and give you $1.25," he grumbled. "That's the best I can do. You're pretty extravagant, Amelia!' "Me extravagant?" And Amelia laughed bitterly.
